Togetsukyo Bridge Below offers a full day itinerary for mid-tempo travelers that takes you through Kyoto to the Arashiyama district. This route can be easily extended to a full day plan with a few additions. See a full-screen map of start start at Arashiyama Station Walk to Tenryuji Tenryuji Explore the expansive garden and rooms at Tenryuji Temple. Exit the northern gate and step into the bamboo groves of Bamboo Groves Walk the way among the bamboo groves to Okochi Sancho. Return to Tenriuji and Arashiyama station. Stroll along the main street of Arashiyama towards the Togetsukio Togetsukyo Bridge Explore the banks of the rivers around the Togetsukyo Bridge. The walk to the entrance to the monkey park at the bottom of the Monkey Mountain Park takes about 10-15 minutes to climb the mountain to see the monkeys. The park also offers a good view of Kyoto from above. This route easily fits with our north Kyoto Half Day itinerary to make a full day plan. Or consider expanding your plans to study Arashiyama for the day. Several small temples, such as Jojakkoji and Nisonin, are located in the mountains north of the bamboo groves. These temples have a quiet and understated atmosphere, but turn into spectacular and crowded attractions in the autumn, when the maple trees change colors. The Saga Scenic Railway runs seven kilometres from Arashiyama to nearby Kameoka, mostly close to the picturesque Hozugawa River. Departing from near JR Kameoka station, the Hozu River Boat Tour is a leisurely two-hour journey that takes passengers down the winding Hozugawa River to the Togetsukio Bridge. Toei Uzumasa Eigamura is a fun, story-themed theme park built on the grounds of the Toei Film Studio. The park is also used for the filming of historical dramas and includes a copy of the Edo Period City, a haunted house, shooting demonstrations and a ninja show. Questions? Ask on our forum. Are you planning to visit Arashiyama in Kyoto? Read on our walking route with the best things to do listed for a half-day trip to Arasiam during cherry blossoms. Arashiyama (嵐) is one of the popular attractions in Kyoto. It is famous for its beautiful scenery, well-preserved ancient buildings and experience of sightseeing. No doubt, there are many things to see and do in Arashiyama. All must-visit attractions are perfect for putting in a one-day itinerary from Kyoto. However, if you only have a limited time, Arashiyama is a good place for a half-day trip to explore its natural beauty. Arashiyama is also considered one of the best places for cherry blossoms in March-April and November autumn foliage in the Kyoto area. We visited Arashiyama in early April during the cherry blossom season. It's so amazing with a cherry blossom full of blooms. Read about how we plan our half day Arashiyama route from Kyoto. Getting to Arashiyama First of all, Arashiyama is a little far from seven kilometers from the center of Kyoto. However, getting to Arashiyama from Osaka is easy. Kyoto by train or bus. The train is the best option as you can get the structure in motion on the bus. From Kyoto to Arasiamu by train or bus. On the JR train: Take the JR Sagano train to JR Arashiyama station from Kyoto. The 15-minute train journey will cost about 240. By from JR Umahori and transfers to Cameoka Torokko Station. Next, take Sagano Torokko to Arashiyama with a scenic train ride. By bus: From Kyoto station and with a Kyoto bus (#28) and to Arashiyama-Tenryuji-mae. From Osaka to Arashiyama you can also get there by train. There are several train operators connected between Kyoto and Osaka, such as JR, Hankyu or Keihan Main Line. It depends on where your departure from Osaka or the arrival of the stop on the train Kyoto. By JR: Take the JR train from Osaka to J.J. Kyoto station and then go to JR Saga-Arashiyama Station. By Hankyu train: Take the train to Katsura station and then shuttle to the Hankyu Arashiyama line to Arashiyama Station. There are many things to do on a tour of Arashiyama. The entire visit can be completed for a one day or a half day trip within four to six hours. Here is my walking route along the Arashiyama route for things to do in one day: Ride on the Sagano Scenic Railway (1 - 2 hours) Leisure walk in a bamboo grove - Must visit the place in Arashiyama (1 hour) Pray at nono Sanctuary Mimia (30 minutes) Visit the World Heritage Site Temple of Tenryu-ji (1 hour) Cross the Togetsu-kyo Bridge (30 minutes) Boat trip along the Hozugawa River (1 - 2 hours) 1. The trip to Sagano scenic railway landscape train ride on the Sagano Railway is one of the popular activities in Arashiyama. Enjoy a beautiful view of the mountains with nostalgic trains along the Hozugawa River. This scenic train takes about 25 minutes for one trip from Cameoki to Saga Torokko station. However, you can choose to take off at Arashiyama Torokko station, which is located next to the bamboo forest. This is a great stop to continue our next stop on arashiyama's visit. Read more: Ride Arashiyama Sagano scenic Railway Very are popular and you should get a ticket before boarding the train. Getting there: Take the JR train from J.R. Kyoto Station to JR Umahori Station. Next, take the Sagano scenic train to Therocco Station Kameoka for a horse ride. Train fare: 620 yen, 25 minutes 2. Leisure Walk in Bamboo Grove Arashiyama bamboo grove or bamboo forest is another must see in Arashiyama, Kyoto. It is also one of the main attractions where you can discover the refreshing natural beauty. From Arashiyama Torokko Station, walk to the bamboo grove. Word can't describe our excitement as these places have been on our bucket travel list for so long. It's a leisure walk with soaring bamboo stems to the side along the way. Unfortunately, that's a lot of tourist so many people surrounded. It's probably best to come here in the morning or late at night to avoid the crowd. Visit. Worth a visit when visiting Arashiyama. Besides, you can also take an Arashiyama rickshaw tour. This three-wheeled tour experience will bring you through the bamboo forest and some of the best spectacle in the forest. A great option for those who want to save energy walking. Getting there: A 5-minute walk from Arashiyama Torokko station. Admission: Free 3. Pray at the Nonomya Sanctuary in the Nonomia Shrine (野宮神社) is a small Shinto shrine located in the bamboo grove of Arashiyama. It is dedicated to the Goddess of the Sun and the deity of fire. Locals and guests, especially single ladies, come to the Sanctuary of Nonomia to seek purity and pray for love. Not too big, but worth a look at passing by. It was beautiful as it is located in a forest surrounded by trees and bamboo. A brief stop when you are in a bamboo forest. Getting there: Located inside a bamboo forest. Admission: Free 4. Visiting the World Heritage Site Tendryuji (天龍寺, Tendroji) is one of the Important Temples in Kyoto. It is a famous temple of zen and is now registered as a World Heritage Site. The most beautiful part of the Tendriw-ji temple is the best garden inside with a calm atmosphere. It features a beautiful pond surrounded by pine trees, rocks and views of the Arashiyama Mountains. The view is very beautiful, especially in the cherry blossoms or autumn foliage season. Getting there: Less than a 10-minute walk from Nonomya Shrine Opening Hours: 8:30 a.m. to 5:00 p.m.-17:30 Indent Fee: 500 pounds (additional 300 pounds to temple buildings) 5. There are snacks on the food street from the Tendreu-ji temple to the Togetsukio Bridge, there are many restaurants along the side of the road. Take a walk down the street and choose what to eat in Arashiyama. From West Cafe, Japanese restaurants or small shops all available on the main street. Added, there are also plenty of Japanese local street snacks to try along the way. There are opportunities to grab some snacks and snacks. Getting there: A 5-minute walk from Teneryuji Temple 6. Cross the Togetsu-kyo Bridge, Togetsu-kyo Bridge Pedestrian crossing along the main street of Arashiyama towards the river bank. The Togetsu-kyo Bridge is another iconic landmark in Arashiyama. It is a famous symbol of Arashiyama that stretches across the Katsura River for more than 1,000 years. It was so beautiful with cherry trees along the river. Locals had a picnic in the coastal park adjacent to the Togetsu-kyo Bridge. Hozugawa River Boat Ride If you are interested, you may want to consider including the Hozugawa River Boat Ride in your Arashiyama route. The boat will paddle on the Hozugawa River with beautiful scenery along the journey. This is one of the best ways to embrace the majesty of Mother Nature in Arashiyama. Unfortunately, we were unaware of this boat before our Arashiyama trip. And only learn this amazing experience when we take the Sagano train. I hope we have a chance to get back on the boat. Anyway, it's 1 to 2 hours A trip on a river boat is not cheap. But it is worth for a better species, especially during cherry blossoms or autumn foliage. Getting there: Buy a boat package at the ticket office (railway station). Get to the landing point, which takes a 5 minute walk from Kameoka station. Boat fare: GBP 4,100 Official website: to stay? Kyoto or Arashiyama Arshiyama is very ideal for a day trip from Kyoto with well-connected transport. But, it's great to stay the night to enjoy the beauty peacefully when all the day-tripper is leaving. If you want to stay overnight in Arashiyama, we strongly recommend that you stay overnight in a traditional ryokan. Rangetsu, Suiran Hotel and Arashiyama Benkei are the best ryokan in Arashiyama. They are all perfect traditional ryokan that made you feel like your own Japanese home with onsen facilities. A great place for your lovely stay in Arashiyama who want to be based here. A friendly reminder that limited rooms are available for ryokan. Reserve rooms as early as possible to avoid disappointment. Half a day trip to Arashiyama All in general, we enjoy our half-day trip to Arashiyama. All the must-see attraction was included in my walking route. This is a holiday trip and a great retreat outside the city of Kyoto. Even if you only have half a day in Arashiyama, you can still complete most of them. However, if you have time for one day in Arashiyama, we strongly recommend taking a boat ride along the Hozuzawa River and enjoying nature along the river. There are still many places like the Jojakkoji Temple, joji temple, Hogonin, monkey park to visit in Arashiyama. In short, Arashiyama should set aside more time to study.
